Yizkor Memorial Booklet

Yom Kippur 2006/5767

In honor of loved family and friends who died within the last year

In Memory of . . .

Ted Goldsmith

My father lived with a passion for integrity that he channeled into his engineering approach. I'm grateful for his spirit that remains in my heart.

Larry Goldsmith

Mike Rowan

A brilliant, loyal, and funny man, a friend for almost 40 years. I miss your slowly-dispersed wisdom & inscrutable bubbling humor. Shalom chaver.

Lloyd Wolf

Russell Smith

Amy Smith

Sanford Tepfer (Brooklyn 1918-Eugene 2006)

My "Uncle" Sandy loved and nurtured family, friends, and flowers.

Diane Tepfer

Kim Gardner

My cousin married into the family, on my mother's side, and became its heart. At 52, taken all too quickly on September 7th.

Rick LaRue

Lillian S. Robinson

Author, activist, academic, administrator -- a force of creative energies.

Elaine Reuben

Harriet Belle Friedman

She was the most wonderful mother, mother-in-law, and grandmother! She was loving, kind, generous, trustworthy, supportive and organized. We miss her greatly!

Arthur, Diane, and Zoe Friedman

David Lechook

David made aliyah from Newton, Massachusetts and raised a family on Kibbutz Ya'ir in northern Israel. Staying behind to care for orchards and beloved animals, he was hit by a katyusha while biking to shelter. Sister Judith is a longtime local Mideast peace activist.

Kay Flick Elfant

Hazel Brown Goldston

David Goldston

In Memory of . . .

Rachel Preeti Greene

Remembering: Rachel's smile, her laugh and her joy, and the feeling of being totally accepted in her presence. I miss her.

Tremendous love, a ready smile, our teacher, friend, and sister. We miss your shining face at holiday services, but your light will shine forever.

Everyone Touched by Rachel's Life

Karen Fenster

Deeply loved and cared for her family, friends, and religion. Forever be remembered by her children, Simone and Brian, her friends, and live on in her grandchildren.

Lois Tuttle

Marian Beck Schultz

Wife, mother, grandmother, cousin; she poured out her love on all her family. I will miss my cousin Marian.

Grace Horowitz

Bernard Cedarbaum

Beloved husband of Miriam Goldman, father of Daniel and Jonathan, grandfather of Jacob, Samuel, Louis and Dahlia.

Jonathan Cedarbaum

Avriel Yosef Keogh

My sister, Janet Elfant and John Keogh along with Noah and Hannah deeply mourn 19 year old Avriel after his accidental death. He spent his last year with Habitat for Humanity and was to start Temple University in two days.

Kay Flick Elfant, aunt

Edward Soref

A loving father, husband, and grandfather. A hard worker, who used his engineering skills to solve problems.

Rosalyn Soref

Joe Glazer (Manhattan 1918 - Chevy Chase 2006)

We shall continue to sing "The Walls Weren't Made of Marble" and other ballads "Labor's Troubadour" wrote.

Diane Tepfer

Missy (Malka) Baron (January 2006)

We see you every time we see someone with a hula hoop, hear a child laugh really loud, sandalwood beads, tofu, get or give a really good full body hug, or meet people not afraid to love or take a risk. We love you.
